Lluís Ribas: Els Colors del Blanc

“Els Colors del Blanc” (The Colors of White) is the title of Lluís Ribas’ latest and most daring collection of paintings. In this collection, Ribas has taken a step towards intellectual abstraction in his compositions of women enshrouded in sheets, expressing feeling through their body and through the masterfully realized undulations of the sheets. Ribas’ depiction of white sheets falling across a woman’s body in pleasure, grief, anguish and love tells a story of one man’s love of women and his fascination with their souls. The subtleties of shapes falling and rising through alabaster shadows filled with grays, whites, blues, and skin tones combine to form a classic beauty. In achieving this he has redefined the concept of color - in this case, the various shades of white. In the artist’s own words:

“I present my exhibition ‘Els Colors del Blanc’, in which I have changed my style to a more narrative one, whereby I describe the life of a human being from birth, through love, sex, tenderness, ageing and death, in a single scene: A great white sheet that, through its folds, tells the story of a whole existence, with a single person, a woman whose face we will never see.”

This exhibition ultimately conveys the unpredictable and mysterious paths of art itself. From the fully formed women classically posed on the beach or day dreaming in a Victorian chair, this artist stretches toward modernity on yet another level with his latest series. In all these paintings the result is filled with the artist’s imagination, creativity and push for excellence. Wally Findlay Galleries is proud to present for sale, this impressive collection by one of Spain’s master artists.
